WSJ AND BARRONS DIGITAL

Thank you for subscribing. You now have full access to WSJ and Barron's across all platforms and mobile devices.

You will be automatically redirected to complete your membership in 6 seconds

Pause

OK, LET'S GO

You will only need to perform this one (1) time as an ongoing User.

NOTE: If you do not use either WSJ or Barron's for more than 90 days, you will need to re-create your log-in again (however you will receive a reminder notification direct from Dow Jones 7 days prior to this).

Receive a message that you already have an existing account?

This likely means you already have/had an existing Siemens subscription with WSJ/Barron's.

Contact james.tregillies@siemens.com (with a screenshot of the message) to investigate further.

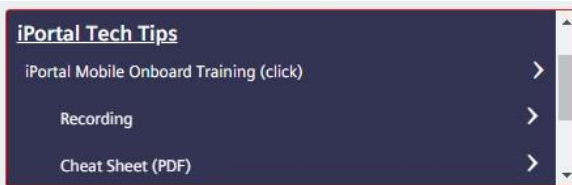

BARRON'S ACCESS

- * Access Barron's (as noted above)
- * You MAY receive a similar account creation message like WSJ. If so,
 - * Check the second box - then click "CREATE"
 - * On next screen click "OK, LET'S GO"

If you see this message, this may relate to a cookie timing issue placed on your laptop. Close the browser and re-click the Barron's link. You should now have access.

Access via Siemens-issued mobile devices?

Home Page has recording and PDF instructions to add iPortal to mobile devices. We can assist if necessary.

WSJ / Barron's iPhone Tips:

- * Only one source opens at a time
- * Close the first to access the other

WSJ / Barron's iPad Tips:

- * Only one source opens at a time
- * Launching other will replace first

 Mobile Devices MAY require you to re-confirm WSJ / Barron's login setup *****
